SHOW EXHIBIT HINTS & TIPS

COOKING

- ALWAYS READ THE COMPETITION SCHEDULE AND DO WHAT IT SAYS. The judge judges on what is written in the Schedule, eg if you enter a round cake & the Schedule says a square one, your cake will be put out of the competition.
- Try to use silver cake tins/pans. Non-stick pans make cakes cook too brown.
- Have ingredients - milk, butter, eggs etc at room temperature. In Summer, the butter can get too soft, put it back in the fridge to harden up for a while. In Winter it is a bit harder, soften the butter in the microwave & even slightly warm the milk in a saucepan on the stove, but, test and watch it.
- Have your scales, measuring cups & spoons at hand. Always weigh & measure the ingredients.
- Before using SR Flour, tip your flour container up and down a few times to re-distribute the rising in the flour. It settles to the bottom when not in use.
- Always make sure the sugar is mixed/melted into the butter when beating butter & sugar together at the beginning. You can even add a little hot water to help. The sugar can show on the top of the cake, when cooked, especially with a Sultana Cake, but can show on others as well.
- Greasing your cake tin - I use butter to grease the tin & also flour (plain) it. Some cooks use non-stick paper in the bottom (I would grease it). I use brown paper, cut to size, for fruit cakes like Boiled Fruit Cake & Sultana Cake. For Rich Fruit Cakes the tin must be lined on bottoms & sides. This becomes a bit of trial & error, do what your Mother does, or what works for you!!
- Most good cooks do not put the last of their mixture into the cake tin. But I put the last in (save waste) & mix it in lightly with the rest of batter with the paddle scraper. When you judge especially with fruit cakes, you can see where the last of the mixture went in - there will be a patch with no fruit.
- After the cake batter is put in your cake tin & evened out, lift the tin up & drop from a height of 12-14cms & let drop down onto the table, several times. This breaks the air bubbles or brings them to the top and you get a better textured cake, without holes, hopefully.
- When getting the flour out of your container, don't dip the cup measure in to fill up. Fill the cup measure with a smaller measure, thereby adding air into the flour, making it lighter.
- Set a timer when the cake goes into the oven & when it goes off, look in the oven & if the cake is coming away from the sides of the tin, it is cooked. If it is not coming away from the sides, turn timer on for another 5 mins & check again. Sometimes, you might have to leave it in for another 5 mins, but check the top of your cake for brownness, as well. Hopefully, your cake will be cooked & coming away from the sides of the tin. Doing this alleviates the need for using cake testers. If you need to use a tester, put it into the cake away from the centre. When judging cakes, you can see where the mark, where a tester has gone in & this spoils the cake.
- In Show cooking, cake cooler marks are a no-no on the bottom of your cakes. I use linen tea towels folded in quarters & non-stick paper halved or quartered on top of the tea towel, to put cooling racks. Use this method for 2 cake coolers, 1 for tipping the cake onto (out of the tin) & the other for turning it back onto its bottom. It means a bit more effort, but there will be no marks on the bottom of the cake.

- Keep the icing on cakes very simple, no need for butter cream icing, unless stated in the Schedule. Just use a bit of butter, hot water & icing sugar with colouring, if needed, & a few drops of glycerine to keep the icing from going hard. Smooth the icing over with a knife dipped in hot water & then run the knife around the edges of the cake to neaten off. All makes for good presentation of your entry.
- When making pikelets, use tablespoons of mixture & tip onto pan/plate, point down. It keeps them round and the right size for Show Cooking. Technically, you should turn a pikelet just before the bubbles appear on top. This is very hard to do, but once again trial and error!! When you bend/break a pikelet, you should see a line in the middle of the pikelet when/where it has been turned.
- Try, if possible, to enter scones from the very first cutting. A judge can pick the scones, from the bottoms, if a scone has been taken from a second rolling - it has join lines on it. Always brush the flour off your scones with a soft linen tea towel or cloth.
- It is unnecessary to put decorations on cakes, unless stated in Schedule. Decorations in the middle of a cake can drag down through the cake when cut, & can spoil the texture of the cake. If you want to decorate, put it on the corners of the cake.

JAMS & JELLIES

- Jar size matters. A judge will be able to see more consistency in texture in a larger exhibit (up to 500g).
- Jellies are clear with a 'set' texture.
- Fill jams and butters to the neck of the bottle, not further.
- Marmalade – rind should be cut fine.

HORTICULTURE

FLORAL BOWLS:

- Containers will be provided by the Cooyar Agricultural Society for Floral Bowl entries.
- Floral bowls are to be filled to the top of the bowl with WET sand.
- Flowers and foliage should totally cover the surface, with no sand showing.
- Greenery or flowers can spill over the edge of the bowl slightly.
- Do not use a full bloom flower or rose in the centre of the bowl, preferably use buds.
- If using succulents or cacti, use a full cactus in the centre and surround with smaller cacti.
- A dome can be created by using slightly taller stems in the centre of the bowl.

FLOWERS:

- When a flower colour is specified, the exhibit must be only that colour, no coloured stamins or varied petals.

ARRANGEMENTS:

- The mounting board is to be fully covered with sand, pebbles, bark, fern, etc.

PHOTOGRAPHY Comments from previous years' judges

- Avoid straight lines (rails, brick walls etc.) that can detract from the main subject. Check the backgrounds to avoid it being too 'busy'.
- Aim for a main focal point. Be aware when taking photos or cropping, to capture the full subject, ie not cutting off animal paws, arms/hands/feet etc of people.
- Photos that 'tell a story' are always more interesting.
- Full class description should be followed: Child at Play, Person at Work, Person with Animals or Pets
- Ensure that photos are professionally printed, do not use a home printer for Show entries.
- Colour theme – to be predominantly the stipulated colour.
- Landscape – 1/3 sky, 2/3 land
- Waterscene – 2/3 water, 1/3 land. Ensure that the water component is the main feature of the photo.
- Seascape – Watch level of the horizon.
- Sunrise / Sunset – should have the sun, or at least part of the sun, in the photo, but some judges will disagree.
- Tree – Centred or to the side, no definite rule.
- Flower study – Include flower / flowers only, no bugs, beetles etc.
- Still life – should not show living things (eg. Foliage) in the background. Watch that the background does not detract from the subject.
- Portraits – Portrait photos are better taken slightly off-side, focusing mainly on the eye or bridge of the nose, not taken directly in front of the subject to avoid attention being drawn to the nose or chin. Ideally, have a clear ('clutter-free') background.
- Wedding – The photo subject needs to have something specifically related to the wedding included in the photo (Bride, Groom, Cake etc.)
- Sets of four – ensure balance in the set – eg. colour, theme, composition
